About Marin Promise Partnership

Marin Promise Partners believe that all children can reach their full educational potential, regardless of race, ethnicity or income. Using the national StriveTogether collective impact framework, over 100 school districts, community members, nonprofits, businesses, and government agencies have come together as a cross-sector, cradle to career Partnership to close Marin's educational equity gaps by 2028. With the help of back-bone support staff, Partners align goals around a common vision, use shared data to hold each other accountable, take collective action, and jointly advocate for equitable, systemic change. Partners accomplish this by working together in collaborative action meetings, collecting and sharing data, implementing common policies and practices, and engaging in joint advocacy efforts. Help keep the Promise to our kids. Join the Partnership. And together we can ensure that each and every child in Marin can meet the educational milestones that are critical to achieving a bright and successful future.
