

OPPORTUNITIES TO LEARN AND GROW: ANTIRACISM ACTION 11/20

READ	SEE	DO	REFLECT	CULTURE
Take a look at the website page about principles from the People’s Institute for Survival and Beyond. https://www.pisab.org/our-principles/	Choose one of these Netflix movies to watch about race and racial injustice	Attend the “For the Culture: A Black Women’s Holiday Market” for your holiday shopping One of kind holiday gifts - handmade jewelry, body butter, clothes, house wares, and apparel at the largest Black Women Holiday Pop Up in the California, Bay Area	Notice acts of antiracism around you or on the news. Which ones make you comfortable? Which challenge your comfort zone? Why is that?	Read about the Unthanksgiving Day held by indigenous people at Alcatraz early on Thursday and held on American Thanksgiving day.
Where or how are we aligned as a BBT with these principles? Of those that are aligned, where is our best work? Where is the work that needs to be strengthened and amplified?	https://www.wonderlandmagazine.com/2020/06/08/best-netflix-films-documentaries-race-racism/	Date And Time Fri, Nov 29, 2019, 12:00 PM Sat, Nov 30, 2019, 6:00 PM	What is the message in the antiracism actions you noticed?	Although it looks to be invitation-only this year, consider it for next year. It’s an amazing experience to attend the sunrise ceremony on Alcatraz. Read the story in the link above and consider how to incorporate it into your traditions.
