

OPPORTUNITIES TO LEARN AND GROW: ANTIRACISM ACTION 11/13

READ

Read this statement on the impact of the election for BIPOC.

OR

Skywoman Falling
by Robin Wall Kimmerer

In this excerpt from the intro to her acclaimed book “Braiding Sweetgrass,” Robin Wall Kimmerer draws upon the creation story of Skywoman and the wisdom of plants to guide us through our present moment of deep uncertainty.

<https://emergencemagazine.org/story/skywoman-falling/>

SEE

Marin City Live!
Author Event:
Renée Watson

New York Times
bestselling author,
educator, and activist
Renée Watson.

DO

The New Jim Crow:
Book discussion with SURJ Marin.

REFLECT

Does your leadership team and board welcome honest feedback from BIPOC staff?

CULTURE

The DeYoung Museum has local artists on exhibit

800 works of art by locals.
Many show George Floyd and other socially conscious issues.

See “Justice” at MOCA Art that explores racial inequality and the need for social justice in our nation

“During a crisis of deep ambiguity and uncertainty, what’s most important is the formulation of a strong, shared sense of meaning. Leaders can’t impose this from above. Their role is to become activists who convene people to explore and define that meaning together.” (Heffernan)

Register at:
<https://www.marinarts.org/event/local-marin-city-live-auth-or-event-renee-watson/>

Date And Time:
Sun, November 15,
2020 4:30-6:00 PM
PS

Your organization should be an environment that welcomes feedback about possible missteps or racist behaviors that all organizations inevitably make. If you have BIPOC staff who are willing to tell your leadership about racialized problems, it’s a sign that you are headed in the right direction.

Link to Justice
<https://www.marinarts.org/event/justice/>