

OPPORTUNITIES TO LEARN AND GROW: ANTIRACISM ACTION 1.25.20

READ	SEE	DO	REFLECT	CULTURE
Why Ben & Jerry's Speak Out	Breaking the Language Barrier	Attend Ibram X. Kendi's talk - OR 10,000 Degrees will be hosting a train the trainer titled "Best Practices for Supporting Undocumented Students" on January 27th from 9:00am - 11:00am via Zoom.	Where is this present moment taking us? What can we radically imagine for our future knowing what we know now?	Indigenous communities have used stories for teaching and passing down information for thousands of years. Today, science is catching up and starting to understand the importance of storytelling.
Leaders showing courage to stand for racial equity rather than try to remain "neutral" in issues around race and racism.	Need inspiration to keep learning a new language? TedTalk about a teenage polyglot	Register to attend 10,000 Degrees' Train the Trainer event here	Use this moment to sit quietly and reflect. You might want to use a journal or meditate, or create art, listen to music, or go for a walk.	Where can you find ways to use storytelling in your work?